

The FALL CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY is a Washington Nonprofit Corporation with federal 501(c)(3) nonprofit status. We are seeking community support through memberships, donations and fundraising projects to cover the necessary expenses of a simple operation. Watch for the annual Historic Mug and Fall City Calendar. We invite you to become a member and support our efforts. See Membership form inside. To date we have also received two grants from King County Heritage 4Culture to fund specific projects.

We have established Collection Management Policies which provide careful and systematic procedures for receiving, recording, cataloging, storing and preserving items donated for the Fall City Archives. See also our Information for Donors brochure for more detail on how to make donations. We have at present a small office space and archive room, both located upstairs in the historic Fall City United Methodist Church. The Reference Library is open by appointment. See contact information below.

Please contact us with your ideas by sending a note to PO Box 293, Fall City, WA 98024. You may contact Ruth Pickering at 425-222-6242 or email the office at fallcityhistorical@juno.com.

Mission Statement

The Fall City Historical Society is a non-profit educational association formed to collect, preserve and interpret the history of the unincorporated town of Fall City and the surrounding area, from the arrival of the Native Americans until the present day, with special emphasis on the period since the first white explorers came through this area (1840). The Society will provide a collection point for books, photographs, documents, artifacts, and other cultural objects which pertain to Fall City history and will strive to make local history visible in the community through signage, publications, and exhibits of various types, with the ultimate goal of a Fall City Museum. The Society will also encourage others to collect, preserve and interpret the history of Fall City.

PRESERVING THE STORIES OF FALL CITY

The Fall City Memory Book Project, started in November 2007, aims to collect personal stories, firsthand and family memories, and photographs and documents of Fall City throughout the last century. We are interested in memories from people of all ages. You write down your memories in a Memory Book Workbook which is provided to you at no cost. We hope you will see this as an opportunity to record the memories of your family for future generations. The original copy of your workbook will be returned to you immediately after being copied by the Historical Society.

At a later date, the Fall City Historical Society intends to publish a book, Preserving the Stories of Fall City, containing photographs and quotes from many participants. Your stories and images will also add to the permanent archives of the Historical Society.

The Fall City Memory Book Project is supported in part by a Special Projects Grant from King County Heritage 4Culture.

FALL CITY
HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The FALL CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY formed as a result of the publication of

JACK'S HISTORY OF FALL CITY.

This amazing book has shown us the richness of the history of our small town, and the desire of folks in the community to preserve and share our history locally.

In an effort to capture more personal views of "how it was" during our earlier days, our current focus is the

FALL CITY
MEMORY BOOK PROJECT.

If you would like to participate in the Memory Book Project, please contact
